

DePaul welcomes new board members

Four new board members joined DePaul's Board of Directors.

K. Russian McGriff, the director of People Inc.

McGriff

Finger Lakes, joined the DePaul Community Services Board of Directors. He has 22 years of human services experience, including seven years with DePaul.

Raymond Scott also joined the DePaul Community Services Board of Directors. He served as Director of the DePaul Problem Gamblers program for 24 years. Prior to joining The Health Association, he served as the assistant director of the Baden Street Settlement Drug Counseling Center.

Scott

Kristine Ball joined the DePaul Adult Care Communities Board of Directors. She is currently the assistant controller at Harter Secrest and Emery LLP. She has six years of experience in accounting and finance and is an active volunteer with several community organizations.

Ball

Gabriel Geiger, director of the financial services division of Lifespan of Greater Rochester Inc. also joined the DePaul Adult Care Communities

Board of Directors. With more than 30 years of experience in the financial services industry, Geiger has worked as a residence manager at Brentland Woods, an Episcopal Senior Life Community. He is a past president of the Greece Rotary International.

Geiger

For more information, visit depaul.org.