

ROOTING FOR THE HOME TEAM

It was a nail-biter of a game as residents of Heath House senior living in Lincolnnton watched the Hickory Crawdad's avert a near loss against the West Virginia Power. With a 6-3 lead in the top of the ninth, it looked to be an easy win for the 'Dads.' Things quickly changed with the Crawdads falling behind in a 7-6 deficit at the bottom of the 10th inning. Catcher David Lyon was able to save the day with a walk-off RBI single. The final score was 8-7. Pictured here, Heath House resident Mary Ingle poses with mascot Candy Crawdad. Residents enjoyed a traditional ball park lunch, complete with hot dogs, chips and soda. They were excited to see the Heath House name scroll across the electronic score board and broke out in cheering when Heath House was announced over the loud speaker, said Katelyn Davis, activities director. "Overall, the residents had a great day just watching the game and cheering on the home team," Davis said. "They all sang aloud whenever 'Take Me Out to the Ball Game' came on the speakers."
